Rumors to the Effect That the Pope Would Be Glad to Have a Catholic Layman of Great Learning Appointed a Member of the Peace Commission.

The presence of Archbishop Ireland and W. Bourke Cockran in Washington at this time has aroused considerable curiosity. A report is current to the effeet that the Archbishop has requested the President to appoint a representative Roman Catholic layman on the peace

The argument made by Archbishop fre land is said to be that as church and state are so closely allied in the Spanish colonies it would be only fair to have a friend of the church, who is at the same time a patriotic American citizen, on the

This representative should be a spe ciafist in ecclesiastical law, without being a priest, and such a man is W. Bourke Cockran, according to the Archbishop. There will be property interests to adjudicate, the church in the Philippines being especially opulent.

It is said that the suggestion came to Archbishop Ireland from the Pope himself the American ecclesiastic being instructed to lay stress on the fact there is no hope on the part of the Vatican that the religious orders of any territory which may be annexed to this country, will continue to draw state rev-

In one case, that of William Bouchat, late of Company E, 128th Pennsylvania Infantry, wherein Assistant Secretary Davis decides that, under the act of June 27, 1890, a claimant's occupation alone should not be taken into consideration, but the nature of the cause of disability. as it would affect any one who earns support by manual labor, is the issue presented.

In this decision Secretary Davis says.
"That in claimant's declaration he states "That in claimant's declaration he states that his trade and occupation is that of a boiler-maker. He asks for a pension because of the loss of the index finger and rheumatism of his right hand. This loss, in my judgment, is a serious disabiling cause to a carpenter, to a boiler-maker, to a machinist, to a gardener, or, indeed, to any one engaged in manual labor.

"Then, the medical examinations show considerable impairment of motion in shoulders, due to rheumatism, and the last examination rates for sight deaf-ness in both ears. These disabilities ef-fect, in a measure, the claimant's ability to perform manual labor; and, in con-nection with the first disabling cause mentioned constitute in the conmentioned, constitute, in my judgment, an inability for the performance of man-ual labor sufficient to warrant rating un-

The other case was that of John S. Davis, late of Company H, Seventh Ohio Infantry.

In this case it was decided that the rejection of the claim, based on a certifi-cate of examination, made by two sur-geons only, which certificate does not contain claimant's written waiver of ex-

Verdlet of the Coroner's Jury in th Honesty Case. A jury of inquest met today at No. 7 police station and inquired into the death of Mamie Honesty, who was run over and fatally injured on the Great Falls Electric Railway, Sunday night.

After the examination of several witnesses the jury rendered a verdict that the girl "died August 16, from injuries received by being run over by car No. 25, of the Great Falls Railway, and from the evidence we believe that the rail-road was in no way responsible for the death and that no blame can be attached to the employes of the company."

The werdict is signed by jurymen, J. Shanks, Frank Thomas, G. W. Thomas,

Samuel King, William Burton and Co-

SPAIN EMPLOYING DELAY. No Signs of Immediate Appointmen

From the knowledge our department have of the dilly-dallying methods of Spanish diplomacy it is not believed here that Spain will appoint her military comnission much, if any, before August 22 the limit day. They may select men who are in Spain, so that by the time they arrive in Cuba and Porto Rico the thirty lays will be up.

The notion that our commissioners will hurry off to the is ands in a week is er-roneous. The chances are they will not eave for three weeks at least.
